

Lanivet – Nanstallon

The walk starts by bus
We are not in a rush
Cross the road and down a track
We've started – no turning back
Into a stable soon we cower
To shelter from a heavy shower
The way forward is rough
It's challenging and tough
Once we thought we could
We climb the hill to the wood
We look out to enjoy the view
We still climb in a queue
In the wood it gets a little muddy
It's not time to be a fuddy-duddy
Along the road admiring the scenery
Yes this is all in one deanery
St Stephen's is at our back
As we head down the Camel track
We have reached familiar ground
Homeward bound - no turning round
Taking on the slight incline
We have made very good time
Started as a group of five
It's now time to divide
As people take their leave
All knowing that they did achieve
Those left are now filled with power
As they see St Petroc's tower
As this was our final goal
Very well done one and all
